LOGLINE

Four friends. Only one is guilty.

A bachelorette weekend in a remote cabin in the Romanian Carpathians. An anonymous text: one of them knows what happened three years ago. By tomorrow, they all pay.

FRIDAY · 17:30

SYNOPSIS · I

The weekend

Ioana, a high-school teacher in her forties, is finally getting married. To celebrate, she takes her three closest friends to an isolated cabin in the Făgăraș Mountains: Sonia, an ER doctor who no longer drinks; Ingrid, an army officer who never travels without her gun; and Vera, an interior designer raising her son alone.

They have known each other for only a year, yet it feels like a lifetime.

SYNOPSIS · II

The message

That night, all four phones light up at once with the same anonymous text. None of them knows who Liviu Dima is. By morning the phones are gone, the car has vanished, and a white poster is taped to the cabin wall: his name, and a promise that he will finally be heard.

Then Vera has a severe asthma attack. Her inhaler is in the missing car.

SYNOPSIS · III

The woods

With no phones and no car, the survivors set out on foot through the forest, twelve kilometres from the nearest village. Every step strips away another secret. Every confession turns friends into suspects.

By nightfall, the question is no longer who sent the message, but which of them will make it out of the woods.

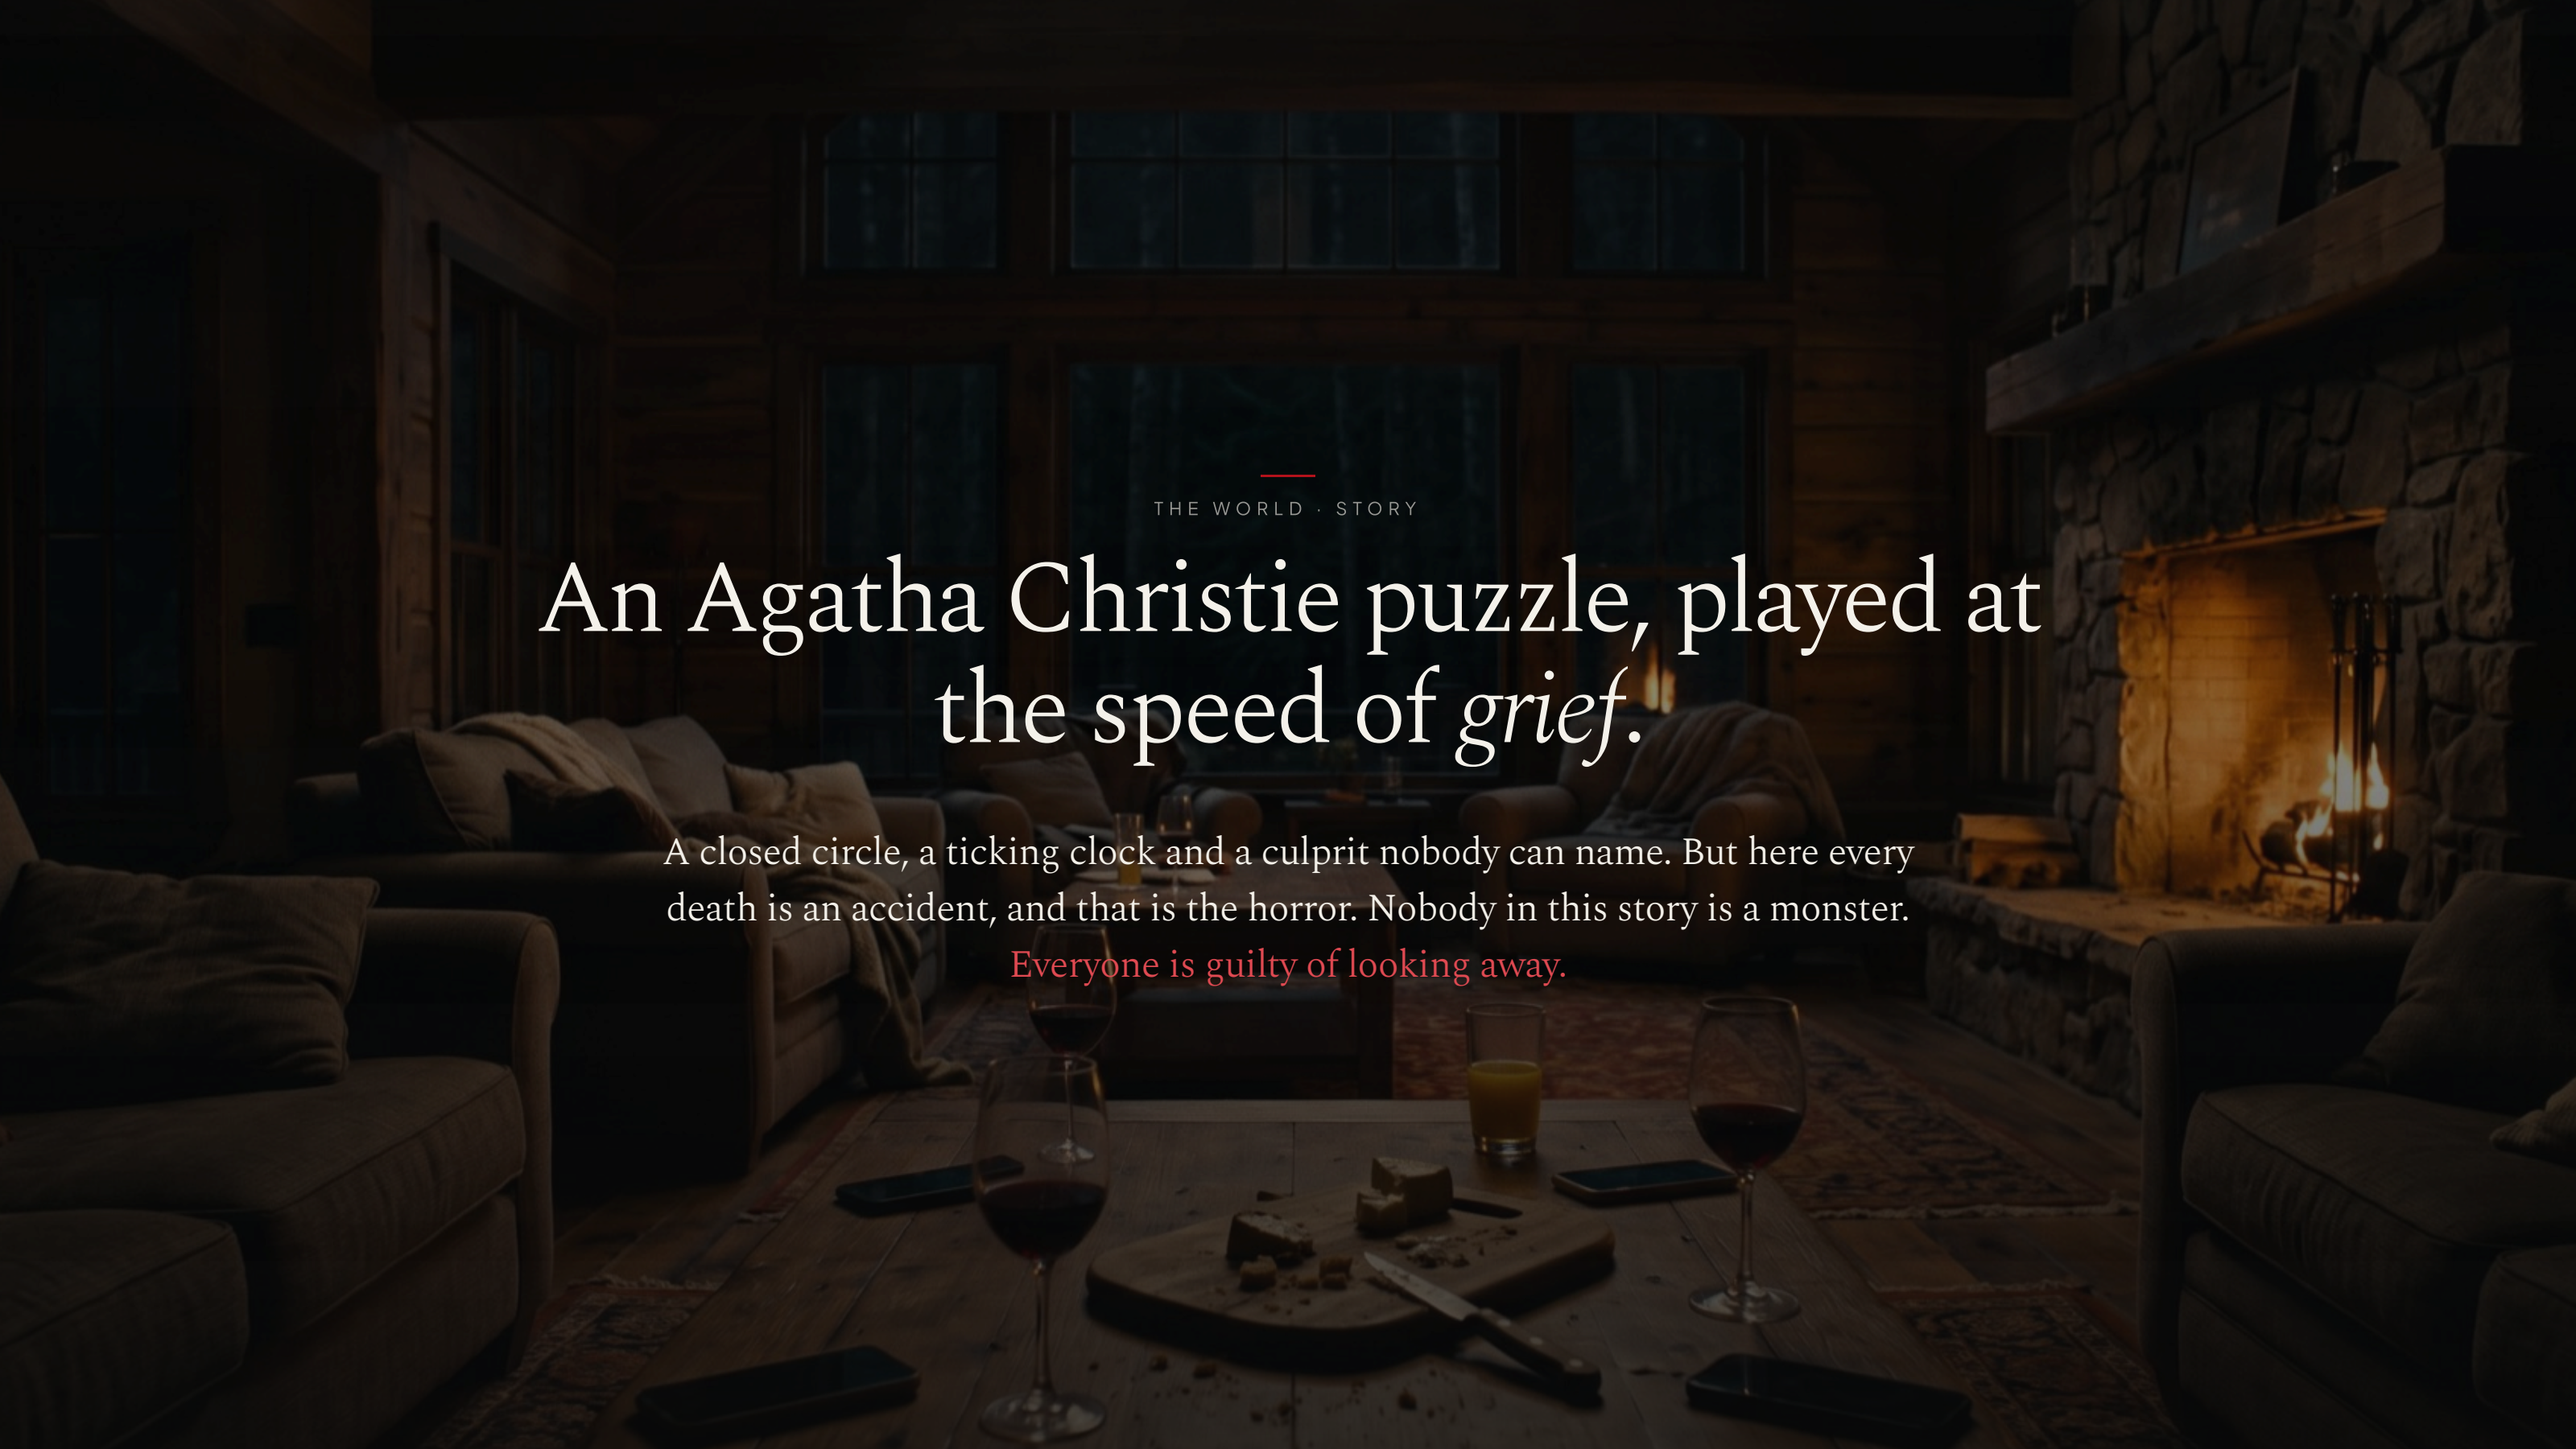

CONFIDENTIAL · THE ENDING

Ioana planned everything.

Liviu Dima was her son. Three years ago, drunk and heartbroken after Ingrid humiliated him at a party, he fell into an unfenced pit on Vera's land. Sonia, drinking on her ER shift, missed his internal bleeding. Ioana chose each woman, built the friendship and staged the weekend to hear them confess. She wanted the truth, not their deaths.

The weekend spirals. Vera dies without her inhaler. Sonia is stabbed in a struggle. Ingrid shoots Tudor, Ioana's fiancé, then falls to her death. The case is closed as a chain of accidents.

One year later, Ioana adopts Vera's son, Darius.

THE WORLD · STORY

An Agatha Christie puzzle, played at the speed of grief.

A closed circle, a ticking clock and a culprit nobody can name. But here every death is an accident, and that is the horror. Nobody in this story is a monster. Everyone is guilty of looking away.

THE WORLD · TONE

Warm inside. Nothing but woods outside.

The cabin

The message

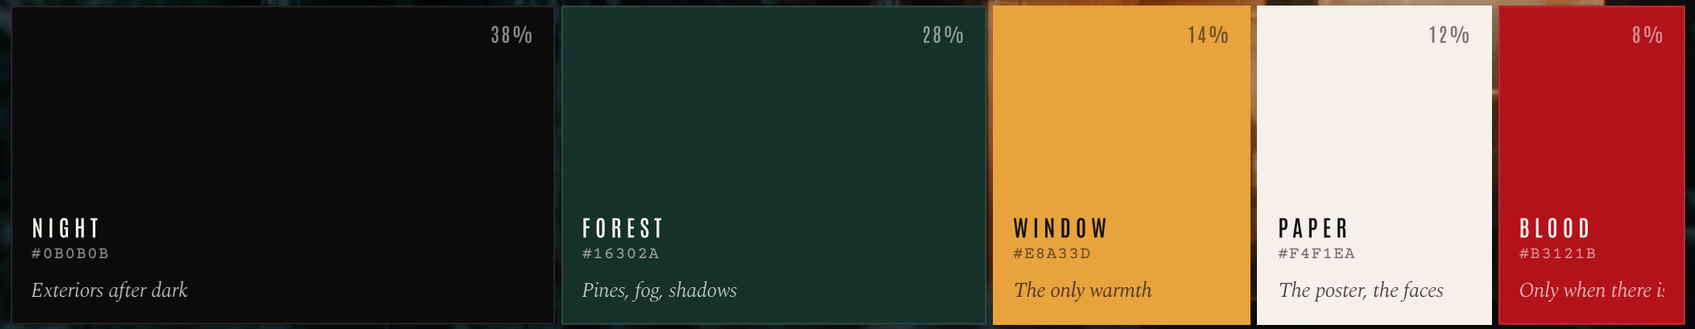

The empty driveway

THE WORLD · LOOK

Cold outside. Warm only in the window.

Night exteriors in desaturated teal-black; the cabin's amber windows are the only warmth in frame. Long lenses from the treeline make the audience the watcher. Inside, the camera goes handheld and close as the friendship cracks.

THE WORLD · PLACE

The Făgăraș Mountains

Romania's highest range. One road in, no signal, twelve kilometres of forest to the nearest village. Shot in Romania and Italy as a European co-production, around one main location: the cabin.

THE WORLD · SOUND

One song, played twice.

“Summer Wine” plays on the first night, when they still laugh. It returns at the end, when there is no one left to laugh. In between: wind, pine and silence.

Music rights to be cleared.

PRODUCERS' STATEMENT

Why this story

We all keep one story we never tell. One of Us Knows asks what happens when silence has a body count.

It is a thriller about guilt rather than evil: four women who each looked away once, and a mother who could not. We want audiences to leave the cinema arguing about who was to blame, and quietly asking themselves what they have never said.

FINANCING

Estimated budget

≈ €1 MILLION

Full financial plan, waterfall and terms ON REQUEST

European co-production · shooting in Romania and Italy

FINANCING STRUCTURE

Three sources, one budget

01

Co-production partner

Italy, with Spain as the alternative: the partner brings its own national incentives.

02

Pre-sales

Minimum guarantees from distributors, through an international sales agent.

03

Private equity

Closes the remaining gap, with a recoupment position agreed upfront.

Amounts, waterfall and terms on request.

PATH TO SCREEN

From script to cinema

- Script complete
- Packaging & financing
- Pre-production
- Shoot · Romania & Italy
- Post-production
- Festivals
- Cinema & streaming

Dates are set once financing closes. Red marks where we are now.

DISTRIBUTION

How it reaches an audience

01

Made in English

Sold worldwide as an English-language title: no dubbing barrier in the biggest markets.

02

International sales agent

Attached in packaging, selling at Berlin (EFM), Cannes (Marché du Film) and AFM.

03

Home territories

Theatrical in Romania through KSM, Italy or Spain through the co-producer.

04

Streaming and TV

Worldwide SVOD and TV after the theatrical window: contained thrillers with a twist are platform staples.

RISKS · FOR INVESTORS

What is not settled yet

01

Director not attached

Oriol Paulo is on our wishlist, not attached. A shortlist of alternatives is being prepared; the confirmed cast anchors the package.

02

Co-production country

Italy is the plan; Spain is the ready alternative, with a KSM precedent (The Handler).

03

Music rights

“Summer Wine” is not cleared yet; a cover or an original theme is the fallback.

04

Mountain shoot

Weather and access in the Făgăraș: one main location, contingency days and insurance in the schedule.

05

Market

Genre results vary widely ($0.35M–$57M). A €1M budget and several revenue windows limit the downside.

WHY NOW

Built to travel

01

Female-led ensemble thrillers travel across borders.

02

An internationally known actress is already confirmed.

03

A contained production around one main location.

04

English-language, European cast, made for international sales.
